

Against Fascism at World Scale! We Say No to War and Terror Everywhere!

Terrorist attacks, blood and destruction, attacks against civilian populations, either by underground armed groups or regular armies, are "unprecedented" only to Americans at home. The fact is that the current economic, social and political state of the World has aggravated the conflict between rich and poor, between exploited and exploiters, between the owners of the world's wealth and the majority, those who know only the cost, but do not receive any of the benefits of speculative and predatory wealth and, therefore, must suffer under the possessive and destructive greed of the present day owners of the World's resources.

The present World economic and political system is a system that distributes the monetary and human costs (and even those are unevenly distributed – those with less power pay more) but refuses to share any of the profits or benefits produced under the present international regime, a regime of insecurity for the many and the maximum profit for the few.

With their self-serving rhetoric of "purity of intentions" and "good versus evil" idiocy, disclosing their profound arrogance and cultivated ignorance, and insulting people's intelligence everywhere, the so called "Western" powers are part of the problem: they share a heavy burden of responsibility for the present state of things. The rhetoric of some terrorists groups in underdeveloped areas may sound as a demand to a return to Medieval times, but we make no mistake: political terrorism is the ugly face the present World system, a product of present day inequalities, exploitation and suffering of the masses of excluded and oppressed everywhere!

Despite mostly rhetorical differences of "procedures" and differences in the mobilization of resources, from the point of view of the present and future victims of violence, of those who are going to suffer and die, War is State organized and State sponsored terrorism. The self-proclaimed defenders of "democracy" and "human rights" are the same who support and have always supported oppressive, authoritarian, fascist regimes around the World to advanced their own gains. The so called "Western Democracies" objectively mock and debase the concept of democracy everywhere.

War and Terror are twin brothers, ultimately they derive from the same source. To fight against Terror we must fight against War, we must defeat all the destructive machines, the machines of human subjection, we must fight against the exploitation and oppression of man by man. To fight against War and Terror is to promote the destruction of all the apparatuses of domination: against the State machinery of mass destruction, against mass produced ignorance and stupidity by the present ideological machinery, including the self-proclaimed "free" press, that is, the present day privately owned means of production and distribution of information, the press that servers the current "World Masters" and in so doing contributes to insecurity and suffering.

Against prejudice and racism, against War and Terror not just "at home" but everywhere!
